MARKET SIZE

According to fortune business insight, the global crypto market was expected to be $ 1.758 trillion by 2027, how ever by the latest figures from coin market cap the market size is already $ 1.8 trillion by march 2021

The global crypto currency market is expected to grow with 32% from 2020 to 2024.

INDUSTRY TRENDS

- ❑ The crypto bull run of 2020 was very different from that of 2017. While the earlier rally had largely been driven by individual investors and whales, the 2020 surge was due to rising institutional interest in digital currencies.
- ❑ This has given hope that cryptocurrencies might finally receive the mainstream acceptance that they have sought for so long, which in turn could drive mass adoption.

INDUSTRY TRENDS

- ❑ Not just cryptocurrencies, block chain technology itself witnessed a huge rise in popularity in 2020, with multiple industries expressing an interest in finding applications for the technology to enhance business operations and processes.
- ❑ Credit for this should largely be given to the covid-19 pandemic, which accelerated digital transformation across the world.
- ❑ With such optimism in the cryptocurrency market, 2021 is likely to be another good year for the crypto market.
